City seeks to close funding gap:

Mayor hopeful on new bridge in '96

By Steve Marschke

Although the construction schedule for a new barge canal bridge been confirmed as slipping beyond 1995, West Sacramento Mayor Greg Potnick is still optimistic that one will be built next year.

"I can't tell you 100 percent today, but I do think it will happen," he commented Tuesday.

Potnick said fellow council members Bill Kristoff and Wes Beers are members of a committee working with landowners in Southport (the city's southern half) trying to find a way to fund the "Palamidessi Bridge," planned to cross the barge canal near where Park Blvd. meets Stone Blvd.

"We still have real high expectations we're going to break ground next year," the mayor commented. "There's a million and a half dollar gap in the needed funding, and we're looking at four ways of meeting that, including additional Mello-Roos bonding, use fees, sewer and road bonding. At this point there is no council direction to put (city) general fund money into it."

Potnick added that the use of city money for a bridge -- which has been a political hot potato since the 1990 city elections -- could still be discussed by the council, but would be first subject to public input.

Design plans for the bridge have been changed and scaled back, in an effort to trim the cost and avoid impacts on nearby neighbors, such as those on Park Blvd.

The bridge has been trimmed from six to four lanes, said Potnick, "with the option of building additional components later," when traffic counts go up after development.

The railway component of the bridge has also been dropped from early plans.

MAYOR GREG POTNICK

Although the bridge would provide a second crossing between the northern and southern halves of the city -- a factor which city officials believe is a safety benefit -- it is designed primarily to serve the Port of Sacramento and the Southport Industrial Park, and to avoid facilitating additional traffic near Park Blvd. and its neighborhood.

Leaving Southport, the bridge will deposit traffic westbound on Stone Blvd. with no quick way to reach Sacramento or the eastern part of West Sacramento.

With the help of Congressman Vic Fazio (a Democrat who lists his hometown as West Sacramento), the federal government has pledged $8.8 million towards the $20 million-or-so project.

That money could be taken away if ground isn't broken on the bridge by next fall.

"There could be a chance of being at risk sooner due to the new (Republican) Congress," said Potnick, "but I don't think it's in as much danger as it might have been a few months ago."

Owners of undeveloped residential land in Southport may also participate in funding the bridge, said Potnick, since the city has imposed a building moratorium until a second crossing is built.

"They want assurance on when the bridge is going to be built, so they can start building and selling homes," he said. "I don't think that's an unreasonable demand."

'Suspicious' death of woman in motel leads to investigation

By Steve Marschke

A motel manager found a 49-year old woman dead in "suspicious circumstances" Monday morning, sparking a police investigation into a possible crime.

"The cause of death is not determined yet, other than we know it's suspicious circumstances," said West Sacramento Police Detective Jim Duncan. "I believe there are personal items of the victim missing."

The woman, whose identity has not been released while police seek her next of kin, had checked into the Golden Motel, at 1971 West Capitol Ave., the previous day, signing in for an unidentified second person as well. When it became past checkout time and she had not reregistered or checked out, the manager visited her room. When there was no answer at the door, the manager entered and found the woman (whose hometown is unknown) dead on the floor.

"There was drug paraphernalia in the room," said Det. Duncan.

The coroner's office performed an autopsy Tuesday but had not determined a cause of death by Tuesday evening. The woman's body had no obvious signs of trauma, so officers have considered that the death may have been a simple drug overdose.

Duncan said he was concerned that, even if the woman had not been murdered, her friend or friends in the room may have abandoned her when she became ill.

"If there were people in the room doing drugs together, you've created a special relationship and you're obligated to call for help if someone needs medical assistance," he said.

The woman, he added, "appeared to be a transient-type of person; a type of street person you see all up and down West Capitol Avenue."

School district decides how to spend $750,000 in funds

■ Split vote sends half of the money to construction of new school, other half to be divided among existing schools in the Washington Unified School District

By David Weller

The Washington School Board voted last week on how to spend almost a $750,000 in local redevelopment taxes set aside by the state of California over the last three years.

In a 4-to-1 vote, the board decided that half the money would be spent on a new elementary school in Southport, and half would be divided up among schools in the rest of the district.

"It's the first time I've voted against the majority. I would rather see more of the money go to the schools that are already here," said board member Ardeene Westvik.

Staff had recommended that 60 per cent of the funds go to the new school. The board settled on a 50/50 split.

So far, Washington is among a only a handful of districts in the state to claim its money. Although the state has been setting aside redevelopment funds since 1992 for the use of local school districts, it was only this spring that the re called to the attention of district staff.

Ardeene Westvik

The district became aware that the money was available when a representative of a private firm, Public Economics Inc, contacted district staff and offered to file an application with the Yolo County auditor/controller's office for release of the money. The company charged $3,500 fee for filing the application.

In August, the board decided unanimously to pay the fee. The district expects that about $7 million in redevelopment funds will be available over the next $17 years.

According to district staff, as a result of the Washington District's action, the school districts in Davis, Woodland, and Winters, in addition to the County Office of Education, also discovered money was available to them, and have filed applications for the release of their funds.

State law restricts the use of the funds to facilities related, one-time expenses, such as acquisition of school sites, school construction, reconstruction or refurbishment of buildings.

Trucking industry cites benefits to city, hopes city will alter policies

By David Weller

The trucking industry and the Chamber of Commerce have joined forces to get relief from restrictions on trucking operations that have been written into West Sacramento's General Plan.

An application for changes in the General Plan is scheduled to be considered by the planning commission a week from Thursday. Because the applicants want more time to review the Community Development Department's recommendations to the commission, however, the issue will probably not be heard until November 2, according to the city's associate planner, Sandra White.

The General Plan, adopted in 1990, prohibits the expansion of exiting truck terminals and establishment of new terminals east of Interstate 80, unless specific permission is granted.

The plan also encourages the consolidation of truck terminals at the western end of West Capitol Avenue and encourages the promotion of the eventual development of a major trucking center either at the West end of the Yolo Causeway (near Davis) or north of the West Sacramento city limits in the Elkhorn area.

The General Plan policy is designed to have the effect of eventually moving trucking facilities out of the city limits.

The trucking industry is asking that the clause prohibitting new terminals eastern part of the city be stricken from the General Plan, and that the clause prohibitting the expansion of existing terminals be amended so that expansion may be done without the burden of obtaining a conditional use permit.

Shotgun suspect sought

Police are seeking a suspect in last week's shooting injury to eight people on B Street in West Sacramento.

Napa resident Ricardo Rodriguez, 35, is being sought for the crime, said Det. Marshall of the West Sacramento, is being sought for the crime.

The shooting occurred Sept. 24 at about 6:25 p.m. Police believe several people got into an argument about a stolen car, and the argument turned into a fistfight. A crowd of people gathered to watch, and a suspect fired a shotgun at one of the parties involved -- missing him, but injuring eight spectators standing from 50 to 150 feet away.

None of the injuries were serious.

'Open house' weekends at fire stations

In honor of Fire Prevention Week, all West Sacramento Fire Stations will be open to visitors from the public on the weekends of Oct. 7-8 and Oct. 14-15, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The fire station open houses will be held at:

Station 41, at 132 15th St.;

Station 42, at 3585 Jefferson Blvd.;

Station 43, 1561 Harbor Blvd.; and

Station 44, at 905 Fremont Blvd.

Fire safety information will be available at all stations.

The West Sacramento Fire Department and Fire Prevention Bureau are available to answer questions concerning fire safety, at 373-5840.

The department reports that about 4,000 people die in fires annually, including about 100 firefighters, and another 30,000 civilians are injured. Careless smoking continues to be the leading cause of residential fire deaths.

According to the fire department, a properly working smoke detector doubles a person's chances of surviving a fire.

Fire prevention week is observed in remembrance of the Great Chicago Fire of Oct. 9, 1871, in which 300 people died, and is observed during the first full week of October, Sunday through Saturday.

The West Sacramento Fire Department responds to about 4,500 emergencies per year.

Corrections

Two errors in last week's News-Ledger related to school district plans for a new high school.

Last week's editorial stated that the school board of the Washington Unified School District has authorized design work for the proposed new school.

In fact, although design work has been discussed, the board has taken no action authorizing design work for a new high school. The board has thus far only authorized site selection efforts.

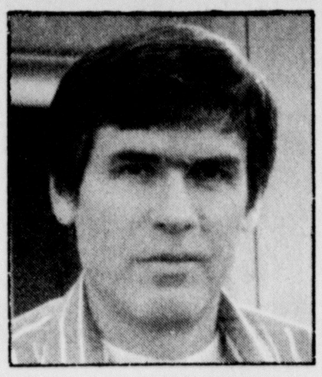
In a separate mistake, a front-page article in last week's paper appeared to contradict itself because the word "not" was inadvertantly left out of a sentence.

The sentence should have stated that schools superintendent Dr. David Miller "noted that the state will not come close to providing total funding for the school." The following sentence, in which Miller estimated that "the state fund can be counted on to fund about 15 percent of the costs," was accurate.

The News-Ledger regrets both errors.

Congratulations to Donna Salazar and Mike Crumley!

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

A few months ago I ran into an old West Sac friend of mine in a movie lobby and he asked me if I had heard that Donna Salazar and Mike Crumley were getting married. "You're putting me on," I said with genuine surprise. "Where did you hear that -- and how do I get an invitation?"

He gave me a phone number where I could reach Donna at work and I called her the next afternoon. "You and Mike?" I asked her in amazement. "Now how in the world did you two ever bump into each other?"

"It's a long story," she assured me with one of her contagious laughs, "but I've never met a kinder man in my entire life -- and he's still awful easy to look at, too."

"So when and where is the ceremony?"

"On the 30th of September -- at the Sacramento Yacht Club. Will you and Mary come if I send you an invitation?"

"Are you kidding?" I said. "This is one wedding I wouldn't miss for the world!"

First, a little history. Donna Salazar (her name was Donna Johnson back when we were both attending James Marshall High School in the early 1960's) and Mike Crumley are two of the nicest people I know -- and the really remarkable thing is that they've both been that way ever since we were kids growing up together in West Sacramento.

Mike lived right down the street from me and was a member of the only gang I ever belonged to -- although we could have never passed for the kind of gang young people join these days. We were more like the kids in those old Little Rascal movies -- held together by the fact that we could make each other laugh and that we all absolutely loved sports -- especially baseball. When summer rolled around, you could usually find me, Mike, Billy Nichols, Richie Yancey, Ray Harrell and Doug Felton over on the Westfield Elementary School playground lining up our bicycles to use as a fence to hit sock balls over, and I can still vividly recall Mike confidently signaling for my best Juan Marichal fastballs, only to have Billy keep clobbering them all over the field with his patented Stan Musial swing.

Mike was a natural born athlete and he had something the rest of us only dreamed of -- a body with real muscles. He was lightening fast and strong for his age, and when football season came around, none of us looked forward to tackling Mike when he ran with the ball. In fact, I still feel guilty for those times when we all (with the exception of Billy -- who was related to Mike) tried to ditch him because none of us could face up to another one of his powerful knees crashing into our faces.

When we got to high school, Mike, Billy, Richie and I played on the same 1965 championship baseball team. Mike was our catcher and he had an absolute gun for an arm. When I would cover second base to tag out a base stealer, I could always count on two things -- that the ball would be right on top of the bag, and that my hand would sting like heck for ten minutes after I caught it. Although Mike was extremely quiet -- even shy -- he was the glue that held our team together, and we all knew it.

Young Donna Johnson, on the other hand, was anything but shy. She had more friends than any one person was entitled to and she kept them all entertained and laughing. She was the life of the party from the very first day I met her and like the idiot I was when I was 16, I decided that come hell or high water, she was going to be my very first real girlfriend. There were any number of complicated obstacles to overcome, including the fact that she already had a perfectly good boyfriend she really liked and a very big brother who couldn't stand me, but after writing her numerous love letters and making a complete fool of myself in too many ways to possibly recount here, we dated for a few months and somehow survived that bittersweet (and very, very funny) ordeal to become life-long friends.

Last Saturday afternoon, as hundreds of Mike and Donna's friends gathered up on the river to help them celebrate their marriage, I thought about how good life has already been to them -- they have six great kids between them -- and how happy and excited they both looked as they exchanged their vows, which Mike wrote.

"Life sure has a way of coming full circle, doesn't it?" I said to a very old friend of mine as we basked in the afternoon sun of a marvelous day for a wedding.

"Isn't this great?" he exclaimed. "It's almost like a high school reunion -- and no one deserves to be happy more than Mike and Donna."

As I nodded my head in agreement, I also recalled part of an old quote whose author I have long since forgotten: "Lots of people come and go, but the friends of our youth leave footprints on our hearts -- and we are never the same again."

'Dog days' of summer has more than one meaning

T.J. Smoot

Well, it's official. The dog days of summer are gone. When I think back on this summer, I'll remember more than one day sitting perfectly still on my couch eking out that last bit of coolness in the livingroom during a late afternoon. When I'm convinced all the morning air has left Smoot Castle, I flip on our handy-dandy 23-year-old, yucky wall air conditioner. With a whiz and a jerk it squeals to life. You can almost see the wave of cool air fill the room, and I close my eyes, grateful for the reprieve from oppressive heat. Then more often than not, I'm gradually aware of a presence gently snuggling up beside me. I open my eye just a little and spy a long haired, brown-eyed blonde creature craving my company. Apparently this individual desires to keep cool as much as I and wants to experience this as close to me as possible. I begin to feel uncomfortable at this approach. After all, my brunette spouse would not take kindly to any competitors for my attention, especially a blonde one. But I have to admit, Mrs. S does know of these regular snuggles and says nary a word. This blonde stares at me, begging for some affection. Then gradually I'm aware of a stale, cycling heat source wafting its way up to my olfactory sensors, deleting the effects of freon cooled air. It could only be one thing: Dog breath. An easy mark, I finally I give up and pet my dog's head. Toby pants in rhythm, like a one cylinder, warm dog breath machine, "huff, huff, huff, huff, huff' then an obligatory "lick" as if to say, "I like you. You're ok." I've come to the conclusion that he's basically an 80 lb. fur, poop, hot stale breath and lick machine.

I can almost live with this dog breath furnace routine, but where I draw the line is at my feet. Summer is the time for bare feet. Bare feet on the carpet. Bare feet on the back porch, and bare feet in the back yard. Toby has bare feet too. Somehow, during summer, his bare footed

Bouncing back from painful defeat

RC varsity football wins 36-8

By Khaled Dastagirzada
River City High School Football Team

The River City Raiders came off a devastating loss last Friday to the Vanden Vikings with a score of 48-6.

The Raiders would like to get that game out of their minds and concentrate on future games. They would face the Lincoln Zebras, where this game would be counted as their first league game. Starting from this point on, winning means everything and losing will not be tolerated. Coach Massey went through "seven days of hell" thinking about last week's loss. The only way to forget about that loss would be for his players to put on a preeminent performance. Coach Massey had never been beaten like that ever before.

Things started off on the right foot for the Raiders when, on their first drive, Josh Castro (#20) put the Raiders ahead 6-0

The 49ers' (4-1) defense won another game at 3Com Park last Sunday, beating the New York Giants 20-6. The Giants (1-4) put some bone-jarring tackles on the 49ers, knocking Merton Hanks, Eric Davis and Derek Loville out of the game.

Jerry Rice suffered a slight concussion and Nate Singleton broke a clavicle and Adam Walker broke his thumb. The good news is the Niners have a "bye" next week and don't play until Sunday, Oct. 15, against the Colts in Indianapolis.

The Dallas Cowboys (4-1) had two losses on Sunday, after Troy Aikman pulled a calf muscle (out for three weeks) and the Washington Redskins upset the 'Boys 27-23.

The Oakland Raiders (4-1) invaded New York, beating up the Jets 47-10. Jeff Hostetler threw four touchdown passes and the Raiders' defense manhandled the Jets in every phase of the game. A total mismatch!

The major league playoffs start this week and the Seattle Mariners rallied for a 9-1 victory over the California Angels in their one-game, do-or-die playoff.

The Mariners will travel to New York as the Western Division champion, to face the Yankees in the best-of-five series.

The other playoff game pits Cleveland against Boston and in the national league, the Reds and the Dodgers and the Atlanta Braves play the wild card winners, the Colorado Rockies.

My picks for the playoffs are as follows: the Mariners over the Yankees and the Indians will beat the Red Sox. In the N.L., the Reds will win and the Braves should beat the Rockies.

The Sacramento Knights open the playoffs on Oct. 5 at the Arco Arena against the San Jose Grizzlies. The playoffs are the best of three series with the final game, if necessary, set for Monday, Oct. 9 at the Arco.

See ya next week!!

This Thursday, River City will play at home against Bear River. Game time is 6 p.m.

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

OPINION

News-Ledger Editorial

A little of this, a little of that

A frequent feature of this newspaper is the "Page from the Past," which displays front pages of the old Yolo Independent, published hereabouts during Prohibition Era.

The newspaper often includes colorful (i.e., highly opinionated) coverage of not only prohibition and gambling issues, but of the mix of races that came to inhabit "Washington" and other areas of present West Sacramento.

The page you see in this week's newspaper is particularly entertaining. It also occasionally shows us that no matter how much things change, they stay the same.

Consider the "Indignant Home-Owners" article, in which the Independent loudly decries a Sacramento Star serial story called "Jungles of Yolo," and which details the transient life and "idle workmen" of Washington (part of West Sacramento's current riverfront.).

"Many decent, clean and respectable families make their homes in Washington," the Independent's editor opines in defense of the town. "They resent any such announcements. . ."

The paper further criticized the Sacramento publication for pointing a finger at Washington's social ills, saying "those who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

If West Sacramento's problems haven't changed much in the 74 years since that complaint, it seems, neither has its complaint against the regional media.

(Incidentally, the Independent is said to have been founded by liquor interests in opposition to Prohibition.)

The third annual Riverbank Music Festival was again a success from a musical standpoint and a public relations standpoint, but did not succeed as a fundraiser for the local parks department.

The event lost about $4,000 on a budget of $33,000.

There are ways of improving its bottom line next year, it seems, and it would seem worthwhile to continue to build this annual event.

What do you think? Is it worth a further investment of public dollars to continue nurturing the festival into the financial success it is intended to be?

A city staff report recently mentioned the ongoing "sphere of influence" study for West Sacramento, in which Yolo officials will work to determine West Sacramento's ultimate boundaries.

The report referred to northern expansion of West Sacramento to about I-5, southern expansion to Babel Slough Rd., and possible city expansion to the west, as well.

But no eastern boundary was mentioned in this casual reference.

Suggestion:

Let's think big. Placerville.

Letters to the Editor

Thanks from RCHS

The administrations and staff of River City High School would like to thank parents and community members who attended the September 27 Back to School Night.

Education is a partnership between parents, the school and the community. The parents/guardians are the cornerstones which support the education offered in our community. Over 800 parents and students attended the Back to School Night and by doing this have given our students the message that education is important.

The River City High School Back to School Night demonstrated that "Raiders Pride is Community Wide." We thank you for your support, and look forward to your participation at future events.

Local dumps

Have you heard...more dumps are being promoted for West Sacramento.

A waste paper recycling facility (dump) which would dump more junk in the water for thirsty LA.

A water treatment plant (dump) for Southport which would become a dumping area for West Sacramento water with solids waste.

Methadone dispersement facility (dump) which would become a centralized dump for addicts of Yolo and Sacramento Counties.

Of course we could create a friendly dump with another friendly park and so on.

How about this, let's get some civic minded club to buy some brilliant white tee shirts with "Welcome to West Sacramento," then get the police to ask the friendly girls on West Sacramento to wear them.

Some of this might be a good idea, but I doubt it.

Bus service

At the September 25 Regional Transit meeting, their Blue Ribbon Committee made major recommendations, including:

1. Providing regular bus service (every hour/both directions) between Sacramento Metropolitan Airport and the State Capitol;

2. Allowing YoloBus to do its loop from Woodland-Davis-Sac Metro Airport-Downtown Sacramento-West Sacramento-Davis-Woodland and the reverse loop every hour, but staggered 30 minutes so as to allow or cause every half-hour service between Sac Metro Airport and downtown Sacramento.

This respected group was also attempting to take a more active role in the Capitol area's public transit decisions. This means taking some authority away from SACOG (Sacramento Area Council of Governments), Regional Transit, YoloBus and similar agencies in the counties of Sacramento, Sutter, Yuba, Yolo and Placer. It also means the Blue Ribbon designees would have a strong voice as to how and where local transit dollars are expended. The RT Board was, understandably, reluctant to suddenly release any authority and transportation revenues to this proposed new group seeking to share the decision-making process, including RT's budget.

While Blue Ribbon's recommendation for regular airport bus service should be applauded, their attempt to become a regular part of the decision-making process sounded like they were trying to affect development, traffic, air quality and the like -- all of which could be improved upon.

The report called for cooperation between the (Sac Metro) Airport Authority, RT, and YoloBus, stating that RT wanted to provide bus service to/from areas in Yolo County, although it did not specify particular routes. (This writer/rider suspects the YoloBus' #240 route, the one serving West Sac's Industrial Park to/from downtown Sacramento with virtually no connections for West Sacramentans lest they start/end in Sacramento.) Again, why not have service to/from our industrial area and West Sacramento -- directly?

The meeting was though-provoking and refreshing.

This week's comment:

I'm a resident of West Sacramento for 40 years, raising my family here, and now I feel like I'm in Little Bosnia. Sept. 27 front page has two shootings and a Molotov cocktail bombing, six months after a cocktail bombing of a local high school.

What should we all expect in the next six months, the same and more! How can we all help?

Fat? Sick and Tired?

So was I. Overweight, suffering from chronic fatigue, experiencing hair loss, anxiety resulting in heart palpitations, and poor diet attached to a high stress work environment, blah, blah, blah. . . (Sound familiar?)

Well, today I have lost over 50 lbs., I weigh what I did as a high school junior nearly 18 years ago, the hair loss has stopped, the heart problems have ceased, my diet has greatly improved, and I no longer experience the high stress in virtually the same line of business.

This may not work for everyone, but if you want to know how to get off the track to a short life-span and one that may add years to a more productive and healthier life, simply call (800) 836-9180. I will send you a free tape, and personally return your call.

I wouldn't be offering this product to you if I hadn't used it for over 1 1/2 years and believed in it myself.

Bloody chapter in Yolo history discussed

An explosive double-header from Yolo County is in store for Sacramento County Historical Society on Thursday, October 26, at 7 p.m. in Sacramento-El Dorado Medical Society Building, 5380 Elvas Avenue.

Eftimeos (Tim) Salonites will tell about his book, Berreyesa: The Rape of the Mexican Land Grant, Rancho Canada de Capay, about murders that led to land swindles in Yolo's beautiful Capay Valley. (Berreyesa is the original spelling. Canada de Capay means Valley of the Stream.) Tim will illustrate his talk with slides.

Nadine Salonites, Tim's sister-in-law, will tell about restoration of the Woodland Opera House, which is celebrating its centennial in 1995. A professional singer, Nadine will sing early California songs.

Tim spent nearly ten years researching his book. The story opens in 1846 with the wanton murders of Reyes Berreyesa and his twin nephews -- all unarmed -- by Kit Carson and cohorts, on orders of Capt. John C. Fremont, who said, "I have no time for prisoners." Carson later expressed remorse.

The Berreyesa party was enroute to visit relatives held as prisoners at Sonoma by the Bear Flaggers, ragtag adventurers in league with Fremont in his conquest of California.

Berreyesa family members lost their lands after exhausting their funds in futile court battles over many years. Squatters overran their lands and stole their livestock.

Tim said his book is the first definitive work on California's Mexican land grant history. He will sign books.

Tim has served two terms as president of Yolo County Historical Society. A retired teacher, he has lived in Capay Valley nearly all his life. He and his brother Carl, Nadine's husband, work the family farm.

Nadine has sung with many symphonies, including those in Sacramento and Oakland. She taught music at UC Davis for 15 years.

Anyone may attend. Call 929-9423 for reservations. No admission charge. From H Street, go north on 56th Street, which becomes Elvas Avenue.

Victorino Rodarte was held to answer in the Superior Court last Wednesday by Judge Barry on a charge of burglary. He was caught leaving Bill Campbell's cabin with Bills earthly possessions and was arested by Joe Beltrami. A companion of Rodarte made his escape and has not been captured. Rodarte told the court he had been smoking some sort of Mexican dope weed, and did not know what he was about at the time of his arrest. While being pursued by the officers, he threw away a can of the weed, which was picked up later. He said he threw it away because he believed if it was found in his possession he would be sent to jail.

CEBRIAN MAKES VALUABLE GIFT TO STATE UNIVERSITY

Announcement has been made by the State University authorities that Mr. Juan C. Cebrian, owner of the Caledonian Farms in West Sacramento, now traveling in Spain, presented to the Regents 728 volumes of Spanish works, many of which complete several sets of periodicals now in the University library.

The list comprises more than 100 volumes on science, among which there is a treatise on agriculture of the twelfth century. There are also works on general literature, history, heraldry, and art, and twelve volumes on Spanish music of the sixteenth and eighteenth centuries, as well as seven volumes of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in their original bindings, and one of colored facsimilies of old manuscripts from the eleventh to the sixteenth centuries.

HYPOCRISY THY NAME IS HARRISON

Sincerity and prohibition are as far apart as the North and South poles of the earth

Hypocrisy and prohibition travel hand in hand like twin sisters.

Christ said, "Woe unto you Pharisees and hypocrites."

On Wednesday, September 14th, Mrs. Asunto Da Prato of Washington, mother of seven young children, was sentenced by Judge R. W. Harrison of Woodland to pay a fine of $500 with a suspended sentence of 60 days in the county jail for selling some wine to Constable Ike Clover of Woodland, and a hired detective.

That evening or rather the following morning at 2 a. m., Judge R. W. Harrison of the sanctimonious and puritanical town of Woodland was arrested for playing craps in the Burns Hotel and two days later paid $100 fine for the offense after pleading "guilty."

The judge, mind you, pleaded guilty of gambling.

Guilty of breaking a State law.

And it was that same judge who on the same day fined the poor mother of seven children $500 for selling some wine to two men who posed as cattle buyers or exhibitors at the State Fair.

And that poor mother does not read or write the English language and probably never heard of the Volstead Law.

Hypocrisy and prohibition travel hand in hand like twin devils.

Come on, Home Alliance and W. C. T. U. Volstead.

INDIGNANT HOME-OWNERS MAKE LOUD PROTEST AGAINST DAMAGING PUBLICITY

When the Sacramento Star posted large placards on the dead walls of Sacramento and Washington yesterday announcing the publication of a serial story on the "Jungles of Yolo," loud protests could be heard on all sides from the home owners and taxpayers of Washington.

Indeed, it was well that no representative of the Star happened to be around, for, Lord knows, what would have happened to him.

The placard measuring about 2¼ by 5 feet announced:

JUNGLES OF YOLO

Where thousands of "gay cats," "blanket stiffs" and other hobo types, together with idle workmen "beating their way" in search of a job, spend a night or two on their way in or out of Sacramento.

"The Jungles" is the latest and best story by Reporter Fred V. Williams of the Star. A thrilling adventure story of hobo life, etc.

Many decent, clean and respectable families make their homes in Washington., They resent any such announcements, especially those concerning "gay cats" and "blanket stiffs" and call attention to the nests of "gay cats" that have lately been raided by the police of the Capitol City, even in the business and residence sections of Sacramento.

No matter how clever the story written by Fred V. Williams may be there is a home pride in every family in Washington that must not be dragged in the mire and while the story may not be bad in itself the method of announcing its publication is bordering on an insult, if not absolutely insulting.

The newspapers of Sacramento should say nothing about the "gay cats" of any other community. Christ did not chastise the prostitute nor did her accusers throw rocks at her.

"Blanket stiffs" sometimes have money and many a dollar goes out of the "jungles of Yolo" to the merchants of Sacramento.

As said above, the story may be good, but its method of announcement is bad. Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones.

GREAT DAMAGE TO ROADS DONE BY TRUCKMEN

On complaint of many farmers in the Clarksburg district, Supervisor Leinberger has taken action to prevent further damage to the county roads in that district.

After he had spent a big sum to build a new oil and crushed rock road in the Clarksburg district, four outside truckmen, according to the officers, completely wrecked the road by hauling overloads. Aroused by a complaint from farmers, the alert Motor Officer Elmer B. Cook slipped down to Clarksburg last Friday and arrested four of the alleged law violators. Cook said that they were each carrying two tons more than the weight allowed by the law.

Officer Cook learned that when the road was first completed, it was as smooth as a paved highway and solid. The trucks could make as fast as 30 miles an hour over it. Friday Cook could not ride his motorcycle over the road faster than 6 miles an hour. "The roadbed is cut to ribbons," said Cook.

Lately more than $3000 had been spent by the county in putting the road in good shape.

The speed cop declared that had he been notified sooner he would have caught the truckmen with greater loads, as the road became so cut up that they had to lighten their cargo. The road is 1 3-4 miles in length. "None of the truckmen ordered into court pay taxes into the county treasury, and all of them have been making big profits hauling sugar beets from Clarksburg," said Officer Cook.

Justice of the Peace George Colby will mete out the sentences. Sentiment against the defendants is strong. The names of the alleged truck law violators follow:

Overloaded trucks—C. A. Carbine of Oakland, F. Anderson of Lower Lake, G. M. Lawrence of San Francisco, Paul E. Burg of Oakland.

The road through West Sacramento is also in terible shape at this writing, scarcely passable for autos or light vehicles.

Nearly all the damage there, too, has been done by truckmen hauling beets to Jefferson station on the Sacramento Short Line.

But the beets must be hauled or left to rot, and the only practical way out seems to be to build better roads.

Retail butchers should not be blamed entirely for the high prices of meats.

They claim they can sell only 17 per cent of each carcass, for house wives only want the best.

In Louisville, Ken., last Sunday the Ku Klux Klan was prevented from holding a meeting by the police.

If that kind of thing keeps up the Klu Klux Klan boys will be martyrs.

NAZAROFF CHILDREN TAKEN FROM FATHER BY JUVENILE COURT

At a night session of the Juvenile Court in Woodland last Monday evening Alice Nazaroff and her 4-year-old brother were taken from the custody of their father after request had been made by the young girl that her father be removed as her custodian.

A week ago she appealed to Constable Buckingham for protection, who placed her with a neighbor, Mrs. Evanoff. Here, too, the girl claimed her father annoyed her and it was then that she appealed to the Juvenile Court of her own volition. When the case was brought before the court Assistant District Attorney John H. Laugenour, who had been investigating the case for several days, learned that the girl was being mistreated. The matter came to a climax when between the hours of 6 and 7 o'clock father and children met in court.

The little girl, of more than ordinary sweetness, strenuously objected to further live with her father, a Russian, who fought for her tiny brother, that he too might be taken away from the turbulent home. During the court proceedings the father went over toward his little son, and it was then that the small girl appealed to the court to save her brother from his parent. She fought with her father openly over the custody of the child, who asked to be permitted to go with his sister, whatever her fate might be.

Judge Anderson took full cognizance of the situation, and although the custody of the boy was not before him in particular, awarded him to the custody of the probation authorities, leaving the irate father childless and absolutely alone. Laugenour stated that the lack of a few links of evidence is all that saves the father from a serious prosecution.

Last Tuesday Judge Anderson made an order committing both children to the Home at Grass Valley

WILKES' PLAYERS ARE ENTITLED TO SUPPORT OF THE PEOPLE

The Wilkes players have created a furore at the Wilkes Theatre, formerly People's, where they are this week presenting the big mystery play, "A Voice in the Dark," to be followed Sunday matinee, Sept. 25th, with a magnificent production of the comedy of youth, "Smilin Through," which has proved the biggest success in recent years. The Wilkes Players are without a doubt the finest organization that has ever appeared in Sacramento and are entitled to the support of the amusement going public.

SEVERAL NEW HOMES UNDER CONSTRUCTION IN WASHINGTON

Since a settlement of building troubles has been arrived at several new homes have been started in Washington, Riverbank and West Sacramento.

Peter Ghelfi has remodeled his home at 4th and William Streets at a cost of over $2000, and has just moved into the finished premises.

Across 4th street another new home is under construction and will be occupied in about two weeks.

On William street the property and home of W. T. Austin has been sold to parties who contemplate building several cottages for rent. The Austin family having moved to Sacramento.

On Fourth street, between Anne and Harriett, the Fourness property has been sold and another home on an adjoining lot is being built.

Several homes are being built in Riverbank and several lots have lately changed hands, indicating an activity not seen for more than a year or since building conditions were unsettled.

All bungalows built by the West Sacramento Co. at headquarters have been sold to home owners. These are taking active interest in promoting sales of other lots to their friends.

Local Democrats plan 'Oktoberfest' for Saturday, Oct. 21, with music, food, beer

From the West Sacramento Democratic Club

It started as a marriage celebration for King Ludwig the First of Bavaria, but it was so much fun they decided to do it every year. Now, it's the Bavarian equivalent of the State Fair. To most Americans, however, Oktoberfest simply means an old-fashioned good time -- hearty foods, amber brews and dancing to the mirthful bleating of the accordion.

Oktoberfest comes to West Sacramento Saturday, October 21. The festivities start at 3 p.m. at the Elks Lodge, 1020 West Capitol Avenue. The menu includes fresh German sausages, homemade potato salad and sauerkraut, beer, soda and all the accouterments. Live entertainment by Chris Ackers and friends will be provided. Local civic leaders will provide insights, commentary and humor.

Tickets for the West Sacramento Oktoberfest are $10 and the door, $8 in advance and $5 for seniors and for children under 12. For advance ticket sales, contact Chris Cabaldon at 371-1122 or Lisa Roberts at 372-6857.

King Ludwig eventually went mad, and so will you if you miss the Oktoberfest. Be there, and bring your polka shoes!

Sandwich shop opens up as first tenant in city commercial/residential building project

From David G. Jones

Housing Agency
City of West Sacramento

Togo's sandwich store opened at its new West Capitol Avenue location September 28. This is the first retailer to locate in the West Capitol Courtyard commercial space and it joins the offices of the West Sacramento Housing Development Corporation already in place. Togo's owner Stuart Chang signed a lease for the store's 1,447 square feet on May 16, and construction began in June to finish the interior space, according to Tom Kigar, the Housing Development Corporation's director.

The West Sacramento Housing Development Corporation, the non-profit agency responsible for operating the complex, was pleased with the new store. "Togo's is a great addition to West Capitol Courtyard and will help round out the retail component of the development," said Kigar.

The improvement of West Capitol Avenue's business environment has been high on the priority list of the West Sacramento Redevelopment Agency which was responsible for developing the 50-unit affordable housing project with its commercial space. West Capitol Courtyard serves to implement the city's plan to focus retail redevelopment at the major intersections on West Capitol Avenue. "This is exactly the kind of business that we were hoping would come to West Capitol Courtyard," said Val Toppenberg, director of the city's redevelopment agency. "Now, every time a new customer visits Togo's it will contribute to the revitalization of West Capitol Avenue."

Riverbank music festival: successful as a concert, but not as fundraiser

By Steve Marschke

Last month's third annual Riverbank Music Festival, with headlining band "Los Lobos," drew more people than previous years but still failed to generate funds for the West Sacramento Parks and Community Services Department's youth programs.

"When you add the in-kind donations to the revenues," said parks director Don Schatzel, "we came out ahead. But when you look at just cash, we lost about $4,000."

The event had a budget of about $33,000, he said, and attracted over a thousand paid customers.

It was held at the First Nationwide Bank's "campus" complex near Reed Ave.

"It was a great event," said Schatzel. "We feel real good about it. When we used to tell people about the festival, we used to hear, 'What?,' and now we hear, 'Congratulations, you got Los Lobos.' "

Schatzel said the the event was helped by being scheduled to avoid Labor Day, but may have been hurt by being scheduled on a Sunday afternoon instead of a Saturday. But the Sunday date was necessitated by the schedule of Los Lobos.

The city's parks and community services commission will receive a briefing on the event this week, and city officials will help determine whether to continue funding the event and developing it into a revenue-maker.

with a 3-yard touchdown run. The extra point by Peter Santizo (#1) tacked on another point for the Raiders. On Lincoln's second drive, the Raiders' front line forced a fumble and they recovered. River City capitalized on the turnover when Byard (#22) broke loose for 23 yards, taking it in from 1 yard out, to put the Raiders ahead, 13-0. The Raiders went for the two-point conversion and Byard scored again, extending the lead to 15-0. Lincoln, realizing that the game was slipping through their hands, gave the ball to their main weapon, #28, who broke loose for a 50-yard touchdown. Their two-point conversion was run in by their quarterback. The score at the end of the first quarter was Raiders 15, Zebras 8.

In the second quarter, Lincoln's quarterback was sacked by Sam, #53, forcing Lincoln to punt. It was now the Raiders' turn on offense and Josh Castro (#20) ran the ball for a good ten yards. On that same play, Castro was hit while he was on the floor and the referee threw a flag for unnecessary roughness. That moved the ball up an extra 15 yards from the spot of the foul. Byard, #22, ran the ball for 13 more yards, setting up a 4-yard touchdown run by himself. The extra point by Santizo was good and the Raiders continued to lead, 22-8. Lincoln didn't hold the ball for very long on their next drive when they fumbled and Sam, #53, recovered it for River City. Later on that drive, Coach Massey was left with a challenging decision when the Raiders were held to a 4th and 2. The Raiders went for it, and Byard came through, picking up six yards for the first down. But on the following play, River City fumbled and Lincoln recovered. Will Welcher, #73, made a big tackle on Lincoln's #28 for a ten-yard loss. Lincoln was forced to punt again. Welcher, who came very close before, put his hands up and blocked the punt. At this time, the River City sideline and bleachers were on their feet while Lincoln and their fans were in disbelief. The first half ended soon after that, with the scoring at River City 22, Lincoln 8.

In the third quarter, both teams came out fired up, with River City trying to make it a major blowout and Lincoln trying to make an amazing comeback. It was River City's ball and, again, they forced a 4th and 2. Again they gave it to Byard and again he came through with a seven-yard run. Castro doubled that, with a 14-yard carry. Timas, #34, had his share of yards, with his own 12-yard carry. Castro then ran it in from 3 yards out, increasing the Raiders' lead to 28-8. The extra point by Santizo split the uprights. Lincoln turned the ball over on their next drive when Timas, #34, picked off a pass that was tipped. That led to a 12-yard run by Castro, followed by a 1-yard touchdown by Byard. Santizo added on another extra point. The third quarter ended in a 36-8 River City lead.

Neither team scored in the fourth quarter, specifically because River City did a fantastic job of running out the clock, with over eight minutes remaining. Coach Massey replaced the starting offense with the second-string players. The game ended as River City kneeled the ball. The Raiders left the field ostentatiously. They were feeling good, knowing that they're a better team than the team that faced Vanden last week. Hopefully they can play like this next week against Bear River and against future opponents.

paws have a propensity to find my shoeless feet. He's not content just to find my feet and look at them. Toby has to locate them and pronounce his presence with a claw-extended "stomp." This often occurs when I'm either gently dozing or intently concentrating on ER or some other dramatic TV show. Needless to say, my reaction is theatrical. After analyzing a thorough body of data, I've been able to categorize these occurrences as follows: 1) The basic stomp, 2) The stomp and pivot and 3) "Run by stomps." I've heard people say "more is caught than taught," and such must be the case between my kiddos and Toby because I soon discovered that my children had taken up this (no doubt soon-to-be-Olympic) pastime of foot stomping. Not only did they partake joyfully in the three categories listed above, but being the aspiring athletes that they are, they added two new categories. They are 4) The Stomp and multiple jump and (by far the most tortuous) 5) The Stomp and Vigorous Tap dance.

Me miss summer? I'll miss the solitude around the high school. I'll miss the cool evenings when we turn off the porch light and sit on the front steps. I'll miss late sunsets, bright green leaves, and sprinklers going on early in the morning. But Fall has its own pleasantries, from the brisk sunny mornings to the times when the first sycamore leaves begin to turn and drop. It is time for a change. It's also time to keep shoes on in the house. My kids, my wife, and myself. And just to play it safe, I'm putting shoes on Toby.
